Good Evening Sandy,

I am writing as a district manager for New Horizon Academy. While our country was in the throes of Covid our courageous teachers, kitchen managers, and center management stepped up to continue to provide one of the most important services in our country. They did so without knowing what effect it may have on them as we all knew very little about Covid when it first arrived at our doorstep. Our staff have done a wonderful job of continuing to provide a healthy, stable, loving, and educational environment in which our littles could focus just on being a child and not on the scary world around them. They have continued to do so for almost 18 long months and have done so because of the passion they have for children. They continue to work with a population that is unable to get vaccinated putting themselves at higher risk, and have done so with dismal pay. We are asking that our childcare heroes receive the recognition they deserve and that they are given bonuses as other frontline workers will receive. They deserve it!
